ARMY BULLETIN NO. 9

28 January 2003

IDT/SAD CONFLICT (USPFO-C)

1. During an audit of IDT pay, it was found that members of the New Jersey Army National Guard are being placed on State Active Duty (SAD) orders, and being credited with attending Inactive Duty Training (IDT), during the same periods.
2. This situation places the soldier in a position where the service member is receiving entitlements from two government agencies, when they can be performing only one duty. This situation is a violation of the fiscal laws that the New Jersey National Guard operates under, and places the soldier at risk for recoupment of funds where this has occurred.
3. All NJARNG unit Commanders and Full Time Support Personnel, will immediately review SAD orders, and ensure their personnel on SAD orders do not perform IDT during that SAD period. In order to meet the state mission and enable our soldiers to conduct their IDT mission, scheduling of soldiers' IDT as SUTAs' should have been scheduled and will be scheduled so they perform their IDT training before or after their SAD orders period.
4. Point of contact is LTC Rosenberg, Financial Manager, at commercial (609) 562-0212 or DSN 944-0212.
